Live, bloom and enjoy your life

Bloom Community Care is a registered NDIS service provider.

Bloom Community Care provides reliable, safe and quality disability support services for eligible participants living in the North and West suburbs of Melbourne.

We provide tailored services for multicultural communities and the wider community in their language of choice.

Our experienced staff will work with each participant to develop and manage a support schedule that is convenient and relevant to their NDIS plan and needs. We connect participants with support workers from their own communities, who share in the same interests and who can meet their needs best.
